APIGA 2025 Youth Statement for WSIS+20

As the global community reflects on 20 years since the World Summit on the Information Society (WSIS), the decisions made today will shape how the Internet is governed, how digital access is provided, and how online rights are protected for years to come. In a region as dynamic and diverse as the Asia Pacific, it is essential that young people, who are both drivers and beneficiaries of digital transformation, have a meaningful role in shaping the future. This statement presents the calls to action of youth leaders from 20 economies across the Asia Pacific, gathered at the Asia Pacific Internet Governance Academy 2025. It reflects the outcomes of discussions held on August 20 and 21, 2025, in Busan, South Korea.
